Four Candidates Vie For Top Student Body Post

Trumpet Poll Shows One Candidate Favored In Presidential Election

Undaunted by the fate of the Gallup poll in the last US presidental election, the TRUMPET Monday night assigned Mel Gleiter to conduct a political poll to predict the outcome of Monday's race for student body president.

Inasmuch as there is no precedence for such a poll on the Wartburg campus and thus no way of knowing what effect it would have upon the trend of the election, it was decided not to print the names of the candidates, but instead to disguise them behind algebraical terms. A sealed copy of the poll results has been left with an impartial observer and will be opened after the election to determine the accuracy of the attempt.

The percentages here listed are those found by the poll and will be listed next week with the candidates' names and a comparison of the final election results.

Poll Results

Candidate Q	36.5%
Candidate X	20.9%
Candidate Y	18.8%
Candidate Z	16.6%
Undecided	7.2%

It is obvious that a close race exists and that the undecided voters and the returning choir members will do much to determine the outcome. Candidate Q appears to be fashioning a lead while Candidates X, Y, and Z struggle for the vice-presidential spot.

'Gorilla' Tryouts Set

Tryouts for the cast of Wartburg Players' coming play, "The Gorilla," will be held in the Little Theater on Tuesday, April 10, beginning at 4 p.m., according to Raymond Wilderman, Players' adviser and speech instructor here.

Scholarship Application May Now Be Obtained At Registrar's Office

Application for next year's upperclass scholarships may now be made, according to information released this week by Miss Perra Lohn, secretary of the college scholarship committee. Application blanks may be secured at the registrar's office.

Present freshman, sophomore and junior class members who rank in the upper quarter of their class scholastically may apply for the $75 scholarships, which are to be applied to the tuition for the second semester of the 1951-52 school term. All applications must be returned to the registrar's office before May 1. The individual may obtain his class standing at the registrar's office.

Scholarship and general qualification of the student's contributions to college life will be considered in determining recipients of these grants. The college scholarships committee determines who will receive the scholarships, which are to be presented on Awards day in May. All qualifying students are urged to apply for the scholarships.

Announcement is also made that the Wartburg Women's club is again awarding its annual scholarship to a worthy sophomore girl. The scholarship, amounting to $125, will be presented to the selected girl for aid in her junior year. No application is made for this scholarship and the committee awards it on the basis of the girl's scholarship and all-around character.

Minneapolis Symphony On Artist Series Mon. In Two Performances

Internationally famous, the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra under the direction of Antal Dorati, is making a dual appearance in Waverly on Monday, April 9, in the Knights gymnasium at 3:30 and 8 p.m. under the auspices of the Wartburg college Artist Series committee.

Founded in 1903 by Emil Oberhoffer, its first conductor, the orchestra is celebrating its 48th concert season.

Following Oberhoffer's retirement in 1921, conductors leading the orchestra were Henri Verbugghen (1929-30), Eugene Ormandy (1931-26) and Dimitri Mitropoulos (1937-49).

Dorati Named In 1949.

Antal Dorati was named permanent conductor in 1949. A native of Budapest, he was the youngest person in the history of the Academy of Music there to receive a degree. At 18, he was appointed conductor of the Royal Opera House of his native city.

Since its inaugural tour in 1910, the orchestra has played more than three thousand concerts in 425 cities of the United States, Canada and Cuba.

Mendelssohn Opens Matinee.

Opening the program of the 3:30 matinee will be Mendelssohn's Overture "Fingal's Cave." The concert will continue with "Scherzo" (Allegro Vivace) from Symphony No. 4, Beethoven, "The Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra" (Variations and Fugue on a theme of Purcell), Benjamin Britten, and Waltz, "Roses from the South" by Johann Strauss. To conclude, Mr. Dorati has chosen Introduction and Bridal Procession from "The Golden Cockerel" by Rimski-Korsakov.

Program for the performance at 8 p.m. will be as follows:

Overture to "Euryanthe," Weber, and "Symphony No. 4, in B-flat major, Op. 60," Beethoven. Following the intermission will be "Iberia" ("Images for Orchestra, No. 2"), Debussy. Concluding the program will be Mr. Dorati's arrangement of Richard Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier."

Matinee—Students, $1; General public, $1.20.

Evening—Students, $1.20; General public, $1.80.

Becker, Rand, Schubert, Wuebbens Prospects In Hottest Race In Years

By Ivan Amman

Final election for next year's student body president will be held next Monday, April 9, with polls in Luther hall open from 8:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. Candidates in what promises to be one of the hottest races in years are Lester Becker, Howard Rand, Paul Schubert and Everett Wuebbens.

According to the constitution of the Student Senate, the candidate receiving the second highest number of votes will automatically become vice-president of the student body.

Lester Becker, better known as "Pete," is a 20-year-old biology major from Dundee. Pursuing a four-year teaching course, Becker has been active in campus activities, especially this year. As a Student Senator, he is a member of the elections and intramurals committees, and was a delegate to the National Student association convention at Grinnell last fall.

Pete has also served as chairman of the class ring committee and recently became historian for the newly-formed science fraternity, Beta Beta Beta. During all of his three years at Wartburg, he has been active in athletics, lettering in football and track.

While attending high school, he was president of the national journalism society, president of the dramatics organization, vice-president of the junior class and secretary-treasurer of the senior class. Becker was also treasurer of his home Luther league.

"If I am elected," said Becker, "I'll do my best to present the opinions of the students to the faculty and administration and also carry out the wishes of the majority. I will be willing to accept suggestions and present them before the Student Senate. No matter who your candidate may be, vote Monday, and back the winner to the fullest of your ability."

Howard Rand, 21-year-old English major from Oshkosh, Wis., has also been active during his three years at Wartburg, being president of the sophomore class, Student Senator and a member of religious activities committee and faculty-student council. This year he is vice-president of the junior class. Among extracurricular activities, Rand has participated in Wartburg Players, Music Appreciation club, Castle Tales, Chi Rho and the radio station. Last year he lettered in tennis.

While in high school, Rand was student body president and served two terms as Luther league federation president.

"My best efforts are all that I can promise. Student government is much more than a student body president; therefore, I would strive to be both a leader and a follower," stated Rand. "I am ready and willing to learn, and if elected, would appreciate constructive criticism to make 1951-52 the outstanding year at Wartburg. If you consider me capable, your vote of confidence will be appreciated."

Paul Schubert, 21-year-old pre-theological student from Lyons, Wis., is majoring in social studies, and like Becker and Rand, has spent three years at Wartburg.

Schubert served on the faculty-student athletic committee last year, and this year he is a member of the religious activities committee, chairman of the chapel committee, associate editor of the Fortress and student body parliamentarian. Other organizations in which he has participated are Chi Rho, Hans Sachs Verein, Mission Fellowship and Sunday school discussion groups.

In high school, Paul was editor-in-chief of the student yearbook, editor of the newspaper and was a promoter of student government activity. He also served as president of the local Luther league for two years.

"Student self-government, student democracy, student representation, good government—these are meaningless words unless applied in practical action," said Schubert. "I stand for a student body government which is not merely a round-table gathering of enthusiastic student politicians, but a student government which has as its first aim solution to student problems."

Fourth candidate for the presidency is Everett Wuebbens, 20-year-old English major from Annapolis, Md. Although this is Wuebbens' first year at Wartburg, he was elected vice-president of the sophomore class last fall (he became a junior at mid-term). He has also been active in numerous functions, such as intramurals.

Wuebbens was graduated from a New York high school, where he began his study for the ministry, which is still his ambition. He attended St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., 1948-49, and the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, 1949-50, after having received a presidential appointment. While at St. Olaf, he was a student senator. He was also class president and Luther league president while in high school.

"I believe in a student government that functions as a democratic organization and possesses equal voice for all—an organization whose members are willing to work together with a feeling of responsibility for the common good," stated Wuebbens. "My thanks to all of you who have placed me this far, and the best of luck to my fellow candidates."

Lucille Wenzler, who is on choir tour, will not run for office. In a telegram she expressed her incapability of running, and asked that her supporters vote for the other nominees.

One of the candidates in the presidential elections this year has repeatedly made use of both actual copies of the TRUMPET and of ideas suggested by the editor. If the impression has there-by been created that the TRUMPET endorses that particular candidate, we herewith wish emphatically to deny such motives.

We Need An Amendment

Feeling is running high this week on the Wartburg campus with regard to the forthcoming final election for the student body presidency next Monday. Not in many a year has Wartburg had a presidential race which was as utterly impossible to predict as this one. Any one of the four candidates could win. Any one of them would make a good president.

Beyond assuring Wartburg of first-class leadership for the coming year regardless of the final outcome, the primaries last Monday had another advantage. They pointed out a new weakness in the three-year-old student body constitution. Not that we mean to imply that the constitution is basically defective. On the contrary. But it can hardly be expected to take into consideration all the possible questions that may arise. It is for this purpose that the authors made allowance for amendments.

The particular weakness brought out here was the fact that the constitution makes no allowance whatsoever for postponing primary or final elections in case one of the candidates cannot be on campus during the campaigning week. If Lucy Wenzler had chosen to run, she would have had to draft a platform and conduct her campaign in absentia during her stops on choir tour.

Obviously, in a race as close as this year's, no effective campaign could have been waged by mail, phone or telegraph. The presence of the candidate is a quasi necessity if he or she is to have any chance at all of winning. Had Lucy remained in the race, she would have been defeated by no fault of her own, but because she was on choir tour. Obviously, something ought to be done to remedy the situation for future years.

In the first place, we believe strongly that the present constitution is much too restrictive on the subject of elections. It is hardly necessary to fix the exact date of the voting (first and second Monday in April) in such a precise manner. If our constitution is to survive the test of the years, it must be flexible enough to take care of such contingencies as arose this year.

We would therefore propose to have the students enact an amendment which would delete the phrases referring to the two Mondays from Article IV, Section 6, and substitute in its place a flexible clause permitting Student Senate to change the dates if necessary in accordance with conditions. Only in that way can we be fair to candidates like Lucy who, unaware of the fact that they will even be among the top five candidates, must absent themselves from campus.

POLITICAL PAGEANT

By Wayne Stumme

A Common Emphasis

The primary election is over, and from the remaining candidates we soon will choose the man to head up our student government next year. In their platforms the presidential aspirants presented their views on many important problems and issues confronting us. More significant yet, however, was their emphatic agreement on several phases of student government. Regardless of who may win the final election, it is to be hoped that all will cooperate in the attainment of the common goals.

The candidates felt that there should be a wider student participation in our government. Participation means a greater interest; greater interest means a better government. Whether the fulfillment of this idea means the serving of more students, outside of Student Senate, on the student and student-faculty committees, I'm not sure.

Perhaps it will mean that each individual student will take it as his own responsibility to more actively engage in extracurricular activities, to attend student-sponsored parties, to prod his student representatives into action when they need it. These are all little things, but of all of these our student government is made up. Not all of us will hold office, but every one has the obligation to see that his college community is constantly improving.

Another idea backed by Pete, Howie, Paul and Ev concerns everyone in much the same way. Wartburg recently joined the National Student association, an organization composed of many colleges and universities throughout the country. What we get from NSA will depend not only upon the Student Senate but upon the attitude of every student. Through the ideas that will now come to us from other schools we have the chance to progress in many fields—government, social functions, faculty-student relations But these suggestions can not be assimilated by a few individuals if they are to be successful. Here also the responsibility for improvement rests on the willingness of the individual student to work and cooperate for the good of the school.

If these proposals can be advanced even a small degree next year, student government will be moving forward. This is one program all of the present candidates will be glad to support, for they know that student government is not government OVER the students, but in its real and best sense will always be government BY the students.

I wish to quote a line from the movie "If Winter Comes," also from a more famous poem by Shelley which goes like this, "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?" And after two consecutive days of sunshine at the time of writing this prophetical bit, and with progress being made on Dr. Becker's new house, the Luther hall addition AND the student election, I hasten to add, "Maybe."

* * *

Understand that Dr. Groskreutz is proceeding quite well with work on the '51 Fortress. They tell me it's to be a tragedy in five acts; see Don for details.

* * *

We hear around town that Station KWAR is being received in some homes; also a devoted crowd in Grossmann gathers 'round to catch the local talent. Let Herbie, Mr. Wilderman or other members of the staff know your likes and dislikes on the programs. And maybe 'twould be an idea if members of North hall and Wartburg hall had an FM set, so they could catch it too.

* * *

A while back it was Brother Wenger who received an agency and sales material. Now, lo and behold, Mr. Fintel is also in the business, I'm told. How about that, Norm?

STUDENT ELECTIONS . . . OPENING FOR A GOOD MAN FOR PREXY . . . MEET THE CANDIDATES . . . HEAR THEIR PLATFORMS . . . QUIZ THEM AS TO SPECIFIC PLANS . . . DELIBERATE . . . PICK THE BEST MAN . . . VOTE FOR HIM . . . SUPPORT THE WINNER WHOLEHEARTEDLY . . .

* * *

They tell me that Brother Gremmels is knocking this column this week. Well, let me tell you something . . . he's not so smart! In one article he both dangled a participle and split an infinitive. So there, too.

* * *

As Pete Becker's campaign manager, you probably expected me to give him quite a build-up this time. I don't believe I'll do that. All I ask is that you really consider his qualifications, his plans and his experience; maybe if you have time you might talk with him too. After all, student government is supposed to originate with all the students. If you like him and what he stands for, vote him in!

Ed. Note: We'll let this go by, Winks, but no more!

IN MEMORIAN: We regret to inform you that a good single man and true has passed from among our ranks of bachelorhood. Oley and Betty said the words today. Congratulations!

These lucky Wartburg choir people . . . all this fun they've been having, and only two weeks of studies to make up! Welcome back, Wartburg representatives.

* * *

So what did the government go and do? Make up a test for guys who want to stay in school . . . and you can't even make up a crib for it; there's no justice.

* * *

The people who picked out the seats next to the windows at the beginning of the semester are finding it pays off now . . . gives a little breeze. So I'll cut off mine right now.

Disc Dope By "Doc"

Hello again. Why not pull up a turntable, sit down and go for a little spin with us? We'll try to bring you up to date on a few of the latest record releases—both good and bad. You know, as Oelschlager says (quite frequently), "Some records are good; some are lousy—and some are good and lousy!" Well, we review 'em all.

* * *

First of all, "DISC DOPE" would like to file another murder charge against Guy Lombardo. This time he has completely massacred a new and beautiful song, "I Remember The Cornfields." Of course, judging from the title, he probably figured he had a perfect right to record the tune. But . . .

* * *

Came across a rare antique the other day and loaned it to Wienke to help him revive his radio show, "Rockin' in Rhythm." It's an Old Bix Beiderbecke masterpiece called "Since My Best Gal Turned Me Down." Features some of the cleanest trumpet we've ever heard. Speaking of Wienke (seems he has some tripe elsewhere on this page), occasionally he plays some good stuff on his program. Why not tune him in next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. (Advertisement).

* * *

Don Cornell, the converted hog-caller, has a new release titled "Take Me In Your Arms." It really isn't a total flop, but we doubt that any normal female would deliver the suggested response!

* * *

Gordon Jenkins, the one-fingered piano artist, has been continually turning out fine platters for some time now. And his latest, "Blue Evening," is no exception. Even though it's an old tune, Jenkins dresses it up and gives it a touch that puts it over. With more discs such as this, trash like "Mockin' Bird Hill" and "The Metro Polka" could be pushed back into the hills of Arkansas where it belongs.

* * *

Most encouraging new release is Harry James' "Moon of Manakoora." Finest trumpet we've heard Harry blow in years. Must have sold his ranch! Also remarkable is the arrangement. For once, Harry's horn is backed up by an accompaniment that adds something. In short, the record is perfect!

* * *

Then there's "Oh, What a Face" by Phil Harris, a sequel to "The Thing." Although a good novelty tune, it's a bit hard to take immediately after its predecessor. RCA Victor should have supplied us all with a new Air-Wick first!

* * *

"Beautiful, Beautiful Brown Eyes," latest waxing by Lisa Kirk, accompanied by an unidentified bullfrog, is one we can't decide on. Lisa's vocal is certainly easy to listen to, but as for the song—well, it sort of makes us want to cry. (Take that any way you like).

* * *

Well, that's all the dope for now. Incidentally, "DISC DOPE" welcomes suggestions, criticisms, COMPLIMENTS, etc. Just drop a card to this column in care of the TRUMPET. Please keep it clean!

Diamond Squad Prepares For Opener

By Wayne Koetz

"Batter up! Strike one! You're Out!"

Once more across the diamond will be heard the familiar sound of the umpire calling out the play for Wartburg's opening baseball game.

Outside practices for the baseball squad began on Tuesday of this week and will continue as long as the weather will permit. Prospects for the coming season will be centered on the freshmen, since only a few experienced lettermen will return from last year's squad.

Many Hitters Gone.

Many of the top hitters on last year's team graduated and will not be able to help out in that direction. Some of them were Lloyd Spier, Paul Bruns, Stan Wigines and Bob Roese. They will be missed not only in hitting but on defensive play as well. "Red" Lechner will be hard to replace on the pitching line-up.

It is a little early in the season to predict any outcome for the coming schedule, but from all indoor indications and looking at last year's returning veterans, we may expect to find a ball club that is particularly adept on defensive play. The big question mark on the squad will probably be in the hitting department, although this may soon develop when outdoor practices can be held regularly.

Roster Revealed.

Those trying out for the starting positions are as follows:

Catchers—Russ Mueller, Dick Tillou, Ray Reasland, Jim Denner and Ronald Krueger.

1st Base—Dean Price, Barry Bomhoff, Gordon Kopitsky and John Mullen.

2nd Base—Al Braunschweig, Ted Fritschel, Jim Sorenson, Donald Briggs.

3rd Base—Walter Spurbeck, Ed Kittleson and Tom Olson.

Pitchers—John Kurtt, Leon Webrand, Eugene Cole, Bob Rubenow, Donald Krueger, Hank Sowers, John Mullen, Ed Kittleson, Dean Price, Fred Wix, Max Jocobs and Tom Olson.

Outfield—Bob Uhrich, Gordon Kopitsky, Jim Denner, Hank Sowers, Dean Zimmerman, Millard Wallen, Marvin Ritterling, John Mullen, John Kurtt and Tom Olson.

Tracksters Take Second In ISTC Meet

Wartburg's thinclads inaugurated their 1951 track season last Saturday when they traveled to Cedar Falls and placed second in a warm-up indoor triangular meet in the Iowa State Teachers college fieldhouse. As expected, the Panthers' large and powerful squad dominated the field.

Team scores were as follows:

Iowa Teachers	97
Wartburg	13
Upper Iowa	9

Coach "Ax" Bundgaard's men collected a total of 7 places in 6 events. Among point-getters were two newcomers to the squad. Ivan Ammann, junior, copped a fourth place in the mile, while Ozzie Goettler, sophomore, finished third in the two-mile marathon.

Junior Jim Lenguadoro placed in two events, clearing 5' 6" to take fourth in the high jump and finishing fourth in the 60-yard high hurdles. Wartburg had two representatives in the shot put, Jim Unmacht taking third with a 39-foot heave, and Lester Becker fourth with a 37, 1½" toss.

Wartburg's mile relay team finished second behind the Teacher's quartet. Eldon Reeg, Clair Grube, John DeYoung and Bob Rodewald composed the Knights' baton-carriers.

With One Week Left, Top Hat Wins Three To Clinch Pin Crown

By Wayne Koetz

With only one more week to go in the Wartburg College bowling league, Top Hat Cleaners hold a comfortable four game lead which places them as a cinch to win the league title. They clinched the flag last Wednesday night by sweeping a three game series from the runner-up Larry's Standard Service to move ahead by a safe distance.

A tight scramble is taking place in the second, third and fourth places with three teams now tied for third place. They are Larry's Standard Service, Meyer's Drug Store and Hilltop Cafe. Trophies will be awarded to the first four teams.

Ed Chezik came through with another brilliant performance as he broke the high individual game record with a 236. Jim Denner owned the old record with 227. Jim Unmacht continued to bowl outstandingly as he rolled a 220 game for second place. Frank Pieper was third with 204 and Bill Uhrich was fourth with 201.

Gremmels, Moberg, Pennington Begin Plans After Sweeping Recent Publications Elections

By Oon Groskreutz

A triumvirate of editors-elect, one each for Wartburg's three publications, is laying plans and enlisting staff members for next year.

Elected just before Easter to the job of TRUMPET editor for the 1951-52 school year was Bob Gremmels. Fred Moberg became next year's Fortress editor, and Harold Pennington was chosen for the editorship of Castle Tales. All are juniors.

Pennington, a 26-year-old English major from Los Angeles, Calif., is a pre-theological student. His wife, Rosanna, and he have three children, two girls and a boy.

Pennington Wants Variety.

"I don't think there will be a drastic change in policy," said Pennington, "but I would like to obtain a wider variety of contributors and to increase circulation. I want to maintain a balance between the humorous and the serious, and would emphasize the need for short material as well as for longer works."

Bob Gremmels, 22-year-old English major from Oelwein, has few plans to disclose at this time. The only one of the newly-elected editors to be granted a scholarship, he is at present organizing his staff and filling vacancies for next year.

Paper Will Be Different.

"I think this year's TRUMPET has been one of the best ever," said Gremmels. "Next year's paper will undoubtedly be different— and even better, I hope."

Gremmels is this year's managing editor of the TRUMPET. He has also contributed material to the Fortress and Castle Tales.

Fred Moberg, 20-year-old junior from Carrington, N. D., is a history major on a pre-theological course. He will depend mainly on increased staff organization to produce next year's Fortress.

Moberg plans to create a separate photography staff for next year's annual, and to make the head cameraman the photography editor. The responsibilities of the class section editor will also be considerably broadened.

Thanks Supporters.

"I am sincerely thankful for the support the students have given me," stated Moberg. "The responsibility of the task is challenging, but with the students' cooperation and with the work of the staff, I hope to earn the editorship by accurately recording what promises to be one of Wartburg's greatest years."

Since the leading staff members of each organization are subject to the approval of the publications committee, the proposed staffs of the editors-elect will not be revealed at this time.

MF To See Movie

"Teaching of Evangelism" is the name of the film strip to be shown at the Mission Fellowship meeting next Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. in the Little Theater.

Following the projection of the film will be a discussion led by Dr. John Hiltner, according to the president of the group, Ronald Onnen.

Dr. Marcus Rieke To Speak At LSA

Dr. Marcus Rieke, youth director of the American Lutheran church, will be the featured speaker at the Lutheran Student Association fellowship dinner tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. in the dining hall.

"Predicament of Today's Youth" will be the subject of the address to be given by the well-known youth director.

Election of the 1951-52 LSA officers will also take place at this meeting.

Snapsters Schedule Evening Excursion

Camera club members should bring their cameras to the April 12 meeting announced by Ed Winter, senior and president of the group. Club members will meet at 7:15 p.m. in room 22 of Luther hall for a business meeting.

Major activity of the evening will be a field trip to the municipal electric plant, so that members may practice taking pictures after dark. Eldon Eichmann, Waverly amateur photographer, will accompany the group to give tips on picture-taking at night.

"It is my personal conviction that Paul Schubert can best carry on our own progressive spirit of government, so necessary for the trying days ahead."

Says Mel Gleiter.

ICE CUBES

Fill the refrigerator cube tray with chilled 7-Up and let freeze. For colorful touch freeze a cherry, strawberry or sprig of mint in the 7-Up ice cubes.

As 7-Up ice cubes melt, more 7-Up is added to the drink instead of water as in the case with ordinary ice cubes. Because of the lemon-lime flavor and sugar in these 7-Up ice cubes, they are a lively addition to punches... Pour tea over them in a tall glass to make iced tea.
